

Community Notes 6/20/17

HARMONY UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT is on summer break but will continue Garden Camps July 10-14 and July 17-21 for $225-$275 per child.

KOWS is broadcasting at 92.5 FM to provide a better signal of its unique offerings of local and global news and music. If you cannot receive their signal on your radio, it is still possible to listen online.

OCCIDENTAL ARTS AND ECOLOGY CENTER is constructing a new 1450 square foot conference center on its site. Chautauqua Tickets are now on sale for this year's September 14, 15, and 16 performances.

OCCIDENTAL CENTER FOR THE ARTS will be featuring the Latin dance music of Batacha Quintet after Farmer's Market Friday June 30th. You won't be able to sit still.

OCCIDENTAL COMMUNITY CENTER ADVISORY COUNCIL sent out funding requests with a news update to over two hundred e-mails of interested persons. The council representatives met with Y and Senior Services to discuss a senior program. Its officers met with OCA Fundraising Committee to review fundraising goals.

OCCIDENTAL COMMUNITY COUNCIL will have met on Saturday the 17th as this report is being written. Agenda items include updates on local council projects. The Young Writers' Showcase was gifted $700.

OCCIDENTAL COMMUNITY CHOIR selected this year's Music Director, Sarah Saulsbury, at the General Membership Meeting in mid-May. Tickets for the Winter 2017 concerts will go on sale in November online at <http://www.occidentalchoir.org/>

OCCIDENTAL COMMUNITY SERVICE DISTRICT will meet tonight. According to an article in June's Gazette alluding to an interview with Jennifer Larocque, Public Affairs Program Manager for Sonoma County Transportation and Public Works, Occidental is slated to be next in mandated sidewalk improvements. OCSD budget for 2018 is in progress. A leak in the water supply line to Occidental has been located and scheduled for repairs.

SALMON CREEK WATERSHED COUNCIL completed transferring data collected in its wet/dry monitoring of Salmon Creek in September to a format useful to other groups doing citizen science. The Welcome Packet is being edited for publication.

WEST COUNTY OCCIDENTAL HEALTH CENTER's current big effort in fundraising will be the San Francisco Aids Walk July 16th. August 13-19 is National Health Centers Week.

YMCA says to express interest in additional programs at the Occidental Community Center it can be contacted by email <OCC@scfymca.org> or by phone at 874-2242.