

Community Notes 9/19/17

HARMONY UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT has a new Superintendent, Rene McBride (also the Principal), at Harmony School. Harmony ARK will hold its Welcome Back Community Dinner on the 22nd. Office Manager is Suzi Heron 874-1205.

KOWS has withdrawn its application to relocate the station's broadcast antenna to the City of Sebastopol's Pleasant Hill Road reservoir sit and is pursuing other options.

OCCIDENTAL ARTS AND ECOLOGY CENTER has held its 15th Annual Chautauqua and will be focusing on teaching its Fall Permaculture Course. Fall and Winter Retreat dates are still available. Call Samara Seibel at (707) 874-1557 x103 to inquire whether your group would be a good fit.

OCCIDENTAL CENTER FOR THE ARTS is holding "Art and Wine" events each Friday for public viewing of the art, community happy hour, and open house of the Gallery. Visitors to the Farmer's Market can wander north to enjoy. Free. Donations welcome.

OCCIDENTAL COMMUNITY CENTER ADVISORY COUNCIL is displaying a video loop showing current activities scheduled at the Center. These will be shown on TVs in windows at the the Center. Event signage is being designed for County approval.

OCCIDENTAL COMMUNITY COUNCIL will be reviewing applications for its Craft Faire booths at its meeting 9/16. It will also be reviewing its Expenditure Budget for 2017.

OCCIDENTAL COMMUNITY CHOIR is in rehearsal for its 38th Annual Winter Concert titled "Alleluiah Anyway" which celebrates the necessary art of kindling light during the dark months of winter, as well as the dark times we face in our lives and in our world. Tickets go on sale in November.

OCCIDENTAL COMMUNITY SERVICE DISTRICT will be monitoring the County Public Works reconstruction of the downtown sidewalks and curbs. Work begins this month and will likely be completed in six to ten months. Piazz Construction will do the work.

SALMON CREEK WATERSHED COUNCIL met with other environment groups this month to celebrate at the Union Hotel with Cleo Woelfle and his graduate Students from the University of Washington the publishing of creek monitoring data. Council members and volunteers are scheduled to complete this year's monitoring this month.

WEST COUNTY OCCIDENTAL HEALTH CENTER's is still looking for volunteers who can free up staff time. Contact mszecsey@yahoo.com. Local Mary Szecsey, West County Health Centers' CEO, is this year's "Woman of the Year" awardee .

YMCA has a new after school teacher, Trudy Espanoza. Activities begin at 3 p.m. and go until 5 p.m. Contact Harmony Union School for answers to questions.